«FirstName» «LastName»
«Address1»

Dear «LastName»:

The year 1997 saw basic 9-1-1 begun in McLean County, allowing residents to dial this one number to reach emergency assistance. While each resident within the county can dial 9-1-1 and receive help, your residence is located within an area that has shared telephone service with Woodford County. This does not prevent you from dialing 9-1-1, but it does affect who receives your call. Because most of the people in your telephone exchange are located within Woodford County all calls to 9-1-1, even those of McLean County residents, are directed to the Woodford County 9-1-1 center. This occurs because Woodford County uses a 9-1-1 system that is based on direct trunking to send 9-1-1 calls through the 9-1-1 system. The direct trunking systems allows only one 9-1-1 dispatch center per telephone office, so when two counties like Woodford and McLean share the same telephone office only one of the 9-1-1 centers can accept calls. Because Woodford County has many more residents in your area than McLean County, all calls for your area will be sent to the Woodford County 9-1-1 center. Woodford County upon taking the information will send it to McLean County for dispatch.

Woodford County is now in the process of converting to the same type of system used by McLean County. This conversion should be completed within one year. Once the conversion is finished your calls will automatically be transferred to McLean County. Also, once the conversion is completed we will notify you immediately that your calls are now going directly to the McLean County 9-1-1 center. However, until the conversion is complete, 9-1-1 calls from your residence will be received by Woodford County and forwarded to McLean County. We wish to stress that Woodford County's staff is trained in emergency dispatch procedures so your call will be handled promptly and in a professional manner.

The McLean County ETSB is working with Woodford County, the Illinois Commerce Commission, and Verizon telephone company to complete the conversion as quickly as possible. If you have any questions, please contact me at (309) 663-9911 ext. 5.

It is important to remember that dialing 9-1-1 is the quickest way to obtain emergency assistance.

Yours truly,

William H. Gamblin
9-1-1 Administrator
